Joyful Alice is in danger of destruction by the very thing she most wants - Love. One hot southern California evening in 1968, teenage Alice goes through an experience so difficult, so sad, that one person alone could not have survived it. And so Alice becomes two inside, and Tiger, as she names the other person of her, rescues them both. Now grown up, there's still trouble: Alice is so fearful of men she won't let Tiger advise her in matters of love, and Tiger is so determined to be a healthy sexual woman, she may just destroy Alice in her effort to grow. Also - when will the men in Alice's life stop hurting her over and over and instead help her heal?

In "Letter from Birmingham Jail," Martin Luther King Jr. explains why blacks can no longer be victims of inequality.

Ultimately, The Gig Academy is a call to arms, one that encourages non-tenure-track faculty, staff, postdocs, graduate students, and administrative and tenure-track allies to unite in a common struggle against the neoliberal Gig Academy.

Published annually since 1985, the Handbook series provides a compendium of thorough and integrative literature reviews on a diverse array of topics of interest to the higher education scholarly and policy communities. Each chapter provides a comprehensive review of research findings on a selected topic, critiques the research literature in terms of its conceptual and methodological rigor, and sets forth an agenda for future research intended to advance knowledge on the chosen topic. The Handbook focuses on twelve general areas that encompass the salient dimensions of scholarly and policy inquiries undertaken in the international higher education community. The series is fortunate to have attracted annual contributions from distinguished scholars throughout the world.

Offers a brief historical overview, biographical sketches of important figures, and a fresh interpretation of Churches of Christ in the United States.

CO-PUBLISHED BY ROUTLEDGE AND THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF TEACHERS OF ENGLISH Teaching Climate Change to Adolescents is THE essential resource for middle and high school English language arts teachers to help their students understand and address the urgent issues and challenges facing life on Earth today. Classroom activities written and used by teachers show students posing questions, engaging in argumentative reading and writing and critical analysis, interpreting portrayals of climate change in literature and media, and adopting advocacy stances to promote change. The book illustrates climate change fitting into existing courses using already available materials and gives teachers tools and teaching ideas to support building this into their own classrooms. A variety of teacher and student voices makes for an appealing, fast-paced, and inspiring read. Visit the website for this book for additional information and links. All royalties from the sale of this book are donated to Alliance for Climate Education.

Drawing on over 43 years of experience, this book compiles the author's extensive work on a variety of themes in medical education.

Each chapter begins with an introduction to the subject, followed by more in-depth discussion of the topic. The book is replete with anecdotes and the personal experiences of the author, together with the lessons learnt from them. It will be of value to all those who are concerned with the education of health professionals, particularly trainers and trainees in degree and non-degree courses in Medical Education. Many of the chapters provide guidance to those entrusted with the noble task of training tomorrow's health professionals.
